

PHONE CLINTON'S WHEN YOU BREAK YOUR GLASSES

If you bought the glasses here, or have had the foresight to have the prescription filled with us, we can order the new lens as soon as you phone us, and have it ready when you bring in the frames.

You are without your glasses the shortest time, get an accurate lens to replace the broken one, make only one trip to the store, and pay no more for this superior service than others charge.

We can take the prescription from your glasses. Come in the first time you are in town and let us do that--it may save you hours of delay when you break the glasses.

Dr. Morrill, Dentist.

Frank Turpie shipped eighty-three head of 2500-lb. hogs to South Omaha Tuesday. These were fattened on soft corn which cost one dollar a bushel and Mr. Turpie, who keeps a record on all his feeding operations, says a dollar's worth of the corn produced two dollars worth of pork.

Will Brooks who was weighmaster at Hershey for the American Beet Sugar Co., tells us that all the beets for that company have been shipped out, the last cars going out last week. There were 253 cars, or about 8000 tons shipped from Hershey, this not including those shipped from Nichols and Birdwood.

Fred Siegelin, of McPherson county, was arrested Tuesday by deputy U. S. Marshal Lincoln, of Kearney, on complaint of the registration board of that county, and when taken before U. S. Commissioner Elder waived hearing and was bound over to the federal court in the sum of $500. The registration board in its classification of registrants, placed Siegelin in class one. To this he protested on the claim that he had a wife and child. He then threatened the board and his arrest followed.

PROMINENT PEOPLE WILL DISCUSS CIVILIAN RELIEF.

On Monday, January 21st, W. A. Harris, of Chicago, Director of the Civilian Relief of the American Red Cross for the Central Division, Mrs. C. M. Wilhelm State Chairman, Miss Verma Elsing, Executive Secretary of the Omaha Chapter, and Dr. Hattie Williams, of the Department of Sociology of the University of Nebraska, will spend the day in North Platte for the purpose of explaining to every one the work of the Civilian Relief. Lectures will be given in the Federal court room as follows:

10:00 a. m., The Red Cross and Civilian Relief, Mrs. Wilhelm.

10:30 a. m., How Home Service is Conducted, Miss Elsing.

2:30 p. m., Health Problems—Utilization of Community Resources, Mr. Harris.

3:30 p. m., Re-education and Readjustment of the Disabled, Dr. Williams.

7:30 p. m., Naturalization of Races, Dr. Williams.

8:30 p. m., Federal Law on Allotments and Allowances, Mr. Harris.

Every one is cordially invited to attend these lectures. In addition any member of this party will be glad to confer with any one who desires any further information on these subject handled by the Civilian Relief. The matter of allowances and allotments for the soldiers is not always understood and this is an excellent opportunity to find out exactly how it should be handled. These officers are only holding these conferences at six points in the state and it is hoped that North Platte will show its appreciation of the fact that it was selected as one of the six by attending these lectures.

Re-Appointed County Physician.

At the meeting of the county commissioners Tuesday Dr. Geo. B. Dent was re-appointed county physician for the year 1918. Dr. Dent filled the position last year and his services were satisfactory to the commissioners.

Bridge Bids to be Opened.

HERSHEY S. WELCH, Water Com. J15-2t

Excess Fees of Clerk's Office

The county commissioners checked the books of County Clerk Allen Tuesday and found the excess during 1917 to have been $2,217.85, which amount has been turned into the county treasury. The office of the county clerk instead of being an expense to the county, earns an average cost of the above sum. This would not be true were not the office economically conducted by Clerk Allen.

First Lutheran Church.

Rev. C. Franklin Koch, Pastor. Septuagesima Sunday. Morning worship at eleven with sermon on subject: "Is the Church Fulfilling the Great Commission?" Evening worship at 7:30, subject: "Sixpennyworth of Miracle." Sunday school at 9:45. The second of the course of lectures will be given Thursday night, Jan. 24th. Subject: "The Commandment which changed the thinking of the world."

Everyone is welcome no matter what his church connection may be.

Farm Bureau Officers.

The officers of the recently organized Lincoln County Farm Bureau are: R. L. Schappert, of St. Thomas, president; A. R. Leavitt, of North Platte, secretary and Andy Howard, of Wellfleet, treasurer. A board of directors composed of these officers and a vice-president from each precinct has the active direction of the work of the farm bureau and the county agent, provisions for the maintenance of which were made by the county commissioners last week.

July 1st, 1917, more than 1700 of the 2700 agricultural counties in the United States employed county agricultural agents.

Meeting of D. A. R.

Sioux Lookout Chapter D. A. R. met Saturday afternoon, Jan. 12th, with Mrs. H. M. Grimes. The roll call was "Tidings from Our Soldiers," and some very interesting letters were read that were contributed by the boys in camp. A book review of "Over the Top" by Edith Patterson and read by her mother was also interesting.

RAILROAD NOTES

J. H. McKale, of the Western Union office, accompanied by his family, left Wednesday night for Seattle to visit relatives for several weeks.

Motive power at this terminal has held up exceedingly well, and today is in much better condition than are the engines on the Omaha-Grand Island district.

Life was relieved of its bareness to C. G. Osborn, Western Union operator, last night when his family arrived from Oklahoma. They will reside in the east part of town.

Frank Winkelman, former passenger conductor running into this city and for many years yardmaster at Sidney, died at his home in Fremont Tuesday at the age of fifty-nine. The deceased was very well known in North Platte railroad circles.

A deed filed in Buffalo county Wednesday conveyed to the Union Pacific the Hastings and Northwestern railroad, more familiarly known as the Gibben cut-off. It is thirty-seven miles long and connects the U. P. at Gibben with the St. Joe road at Hastings.

For several days there was more or less of a congestion of cars in the local yards. Freight from the west has been heavy and as all terminals between here and Chicago have been blocked by reason of suspension of traffic out of Chicago for nearly a week, the cars were held here until the eastern terminals were cleared.

Forty-seven years and one month ago today Charley Ell entered the round house an engine wiper. Six months later he began firing, and continuing in that vocation for five years was promoted to engineer. At this work he has been consecutively employed for over forty-one years. Faithful service of that kind deserves reward.

The west bound "Car Coal Special" on the Union Pacific is still running daily and is given right-of-way over all other freight trains. This train is always given one of the best engines at the terminals in order that the best possible time can be made. This indicates that the Union Pacific is doing all it can to expedite the movement of empty cars to the mines as well as bring east the loaded cars.

Since the Union Pacific began paying its employees twice a month, the time-honored "pay day," which to a very great extent regulated the payment of bills among all classes, and spirited up business, has practically passed out of existence. Last Tuesday was the company's semi-monthly pay-day, and several merchants have told us that so far as business is concerned it was no different from any other day.
